Lights of Courage Luncheon: Melissa Radke Brings Laughter and Stories of Courage to Guests

Each year the Lights of Courage Luncheon celebrates children with cancer and their families. The stories of the honorees are a highlight of the luncheon and their journeys represent the thousands of children facing or who have faced childhood cancer.

The Lights of Courage Luncheon was held at River Oaks Country Club on April 23rd. The sold-out luncheon was led by Co-Chairs Audrey Chin, Beth Guinn, and Ali Williams and raised more than $210,000 for families of children with cancer! These ladies worked tirelessly to make sure the event was not only beautiful, but also a successful fundraising effort for our families. We are so grateful for their commitment to our mission through our annual luncheon.

This year the raffle featured ten super raffle packages that included trips to San Miguel, Charleston, Los Cabos, and Belize, just to name a few. Thanks to the efforts of our hardworking event chairs and luncheon Host Committee, we had a record-breaking raffle, raising over $45,000! Congratulations to our raffle winners and many thanks to the generous individuals and businesses who donated such amazing trips, items, and packages!

Always popular, the boutique market featured an array of specialty items including stationery, jewelry, art, clothing, and home décor. Featured stores included: Andrea Montgomery, Aspire Accessories, Clara Rose Bags, Cutehead Kids, Gris Designs, Katie & Co., Kendra Scott, LC Designs Jewelry, MUSE, Nice Custom Goods, Paislee and Grey, Paris Texas Apparel Co., Pomp & Circumstance, Santalisa, Shannon Weir Modern Art, Shopaholic Sanctuary, and Smocked Frock. All of these charitable shops donated 20% of sales in support of the luncheon and Candlelighters.

Candlelighters mom and local Fox 26 News Anchor Melissa Wilson was on hand to be our Mistress of Ceremonies. As the mother of a childhood cancer survivor, Melissa shared how Candlelighters stepped in to provide invaluable support to her entire family while her son, Caleb, battled leukemia.

The highlight of the Lights of Courage Luncheon was our special guest speaker, Melissa Radke! No stranger to a crowd, Melissa is a hilarious and inspiring public speaker, writer, vlogger, podcaster, entertainer, Chick-Fil-A connoisseur, and self-proclaimed hair & skincare advice extraordinaire. She recently wrote down her personal journey to becoming more self-confident in her book “Eat Cake. Be Brave.” and she can now add reality-TV star to her resume as well!

The Radkes show debuted on USA and has been a family reality show sensation! Melissa brightened up our room with her energy and contagious smile as she spoke about her journey to be a courageous woman in a, sometimes, disappointing world. She encouraged our Luncheon guests and special honorees to stand firm in who they are and to approach every situation with a positive attitude and sense of humor. That sense of humor even had special guest Father Bates from St. Francis Episcopal School rolling with laughter as she apologized for smooching with her husband maybe a little too much on one of their first dates. She left the room in happy tears and with a feeling that we can all go out into the world and conquer our fears. It was an absolute pleasure to have her with us. Melissa, thank you for sharing your heart and donating your time to be with us.

Another Candlelighters mom graciously shared her family’s journey with childhood cancer, moving luncheon guests to make ‘Shining Opportunities’ donations to directly support our mission. Amy Kvapil’s son Roman was diagnosed with neuroblastoma at age 2. Now almost 14-years-old and cancer-free, he is considered a long-term survivor and is living a happy and healthy life. Amy and the entire Kvapil family attended Candlelighters Camp CLIFF (our weekend getaway for families) for the first time in 2015, eight years after her son had been diagnosed. Her story was one of patience and reservation about opening up and letting others in to help; but once those walls were down, Amy spoke of the support that her family received from Candlelighters while Roman was on treatment, the connections they made with other families along the way thanks to attending Candlelighters Camp CLIFF, and the ways they are circling back around to partner with Candlelighters to continue supporting families who find themselves hearing the words, “Your child has cancer.”

Special thanks to Jenna Jackson and the talented videographers and editors at P&R Productions for once again producing our annual mission video, premiered at the Lights of Courage Luncheon. To see this year’s mission video, please visit our Facebook page (facebook.com/candlelighters) and YouTube Channel!

Thank you to all of our wonderful supporters who volunteered in the planning and execution of this event, who sponsored tables, bought tickets, attended the luncheon, purchased raffle tickets, shopped with our vendors, and donated Shining Opportunities gifts - all of your efforts are what makes this event such a success year after year! We appreciate your dedication to Candlelighters and we are already looking forward to next year!

HENRY DANIELS

After a fun Easter egg hunt in April of last year, Henry Daniels decided to shoot some hoops. Mama, Dada, and baby brother Benjamin (aka Bubba) cheered on. After a few minutes of running around, his parents noticed Henry was red and sweaty on only one side of his face; there was a visible line down the middle of his face where the other half was pale and dry. Mom listened to her instincts and made an appointment with a specialist; soon after, an MRI was ordered.

When the results came back, the Daniels were not prepared for the news. Their child who was not yet three, had a mass adjacent to his spine. A biopsy was performed, and a word Henry’s parents never ever wanted to hear or speak was being spoken to them: Cancer. Henry was diagnosed with neuroblastoma.

Henry’s treatment consisted of multiple rounds of chemotherapy followed by surgery to remove his tumor. On his first day of treatment Henry woke up super excited to take his first step to “make the tumor go bye-bye,” as Henry would say. On Henry’s first day of treatment, they heard a bell ringing and people cheering. It was an end-of-treatment ceremony for another child at the hospital; it was also a sound of hope and inspiration that they needed to face Henry’s cancer.

As Henry faced treatments, procedures, and side effects along the way, he always kept a brave face. He celebrated each step with a cupcake! Treatment day – cupcake. Test in the “robot machine” – cupcake! Being hooked up to the “walking robot” – cupcake!

It was at the Candlelighters Luncheon one year ago when mutual friends connected the Daniels Family with Candlelighters. Everyone says it takes a village, and now their village included Candlelighters. Candlelighters recognizes the importance of family – time together – and so do the Daniels. Henry’s dad, Owen, played Tight End in the NFL for ten years, eight of those years here in Houston. While there is no time that is good for your child to be diagnosed with cancer, Henry’s parents know how fortunate they are for his diagnosis to have come after Owen’s retirement from the NFL. Every appointment, every hospital stay, every chemo, every scan, they were able to do as a family.

Over the years, Candlelighters has formed strong bonds with the Houston sports community. For the last several years the Astros have hosted Candlelighters night each September for Childhood Cancer Awareness Month. Last year, Henry kicked-off Candlelighters night by saying, “Play ball!” and was able to meet players and Orbit while on the field. That night was a memorable one for the Daniels, most importantly it was a night free of treatment and free of procedures; a night to just be a family and not think about cancer.

Now that chemotherapy and surgery are over, Henry’s future care involves scans every few months to monitor him for any potential new tumors. He is so glad to be back at school with his friends and teachers, he loves cars of any kind (but especially ones that have sirens), he enjoys being outdoors and playing basketball, golf, and throwing the football with Dad. But most importantly, Henry and his family love that he’s back to being a normal four-year-old boy!

It is Candlelighters’ honor to present the 2019 Childhood Cancer On-Treatment Award to HENRY DANIELS
JA’KAYEA MATHIS

When she was 3, Ja’Kayea Mathis noticed a small bump on her left side that began to hurt. She started having chills and fever non-stop. Her mother took her to the emergency room where she was given antibiotics, but when the fever and chills did not go away, Ja’Kayea was taken to a local hospital where she spent 30 days undergoing tests. She left the hospital but was quickly readmitted when nodules appeared all over her body.

A doctor performed a biopsy and ruled it as an infection, but Ja’Kayea’s mom wasn’t convinced. The family had faced cancer before. JaKayea’s sister had lost her battle with inflammatory breast cancer and her mom had faced breast cancer herself. For JaKayea’s mom, Renita, the emotions of surviving cancer were nothing compared to watching another daughter fight cancer. Having previously been a patient there herself, Ja’Kayea’s mom decided to take her to MD Anderson. After further testing, Ja’Kayea was diagnosed with T-Cell Lymphoma, a rare and often aggressive form of cancer that is most often found in the blood, lymph nodes, and skin.

Faced with a 50% chance of survival, Ja’Kayea remained positive. Her treatment consisted of both oral and infusion chemotherapy. Her treatment was not without effects, including back-to-back seizures that resulted in ICU stays. Ja’Kayea beat the odds and was in remission for 2 years before suffering a relapse when she was 16 years-old. Shortly after her relapse she had a stem cell transplant and went back into remission.

Like so many parents, Ja’Kayea’s mom, Renita, attended the support group meetings held weekly by Candlelighters in the hospitals. She became close to Candlelighters Parent Consultant, Jaynie, and knew that she and Ja’Kayea had someone to talk with, someone to help them on their darkest days, someone to lean on during the setbacks, and someone to celebrate their victories.

Candlelighters was there to help their family through the holidays by gifting Ja’Kayea, her siblings, and her parents with gifts through Candlelighters’ Holiday Adopt-A-Family Program. At each step of her journey, Ja’Kayea and her family knew they could count on Candlelighters to be there for them.

This year, Ja’Kayea celebrates her fourth year in remission! Like so many of our childhood cancer survivors, Ja’Kayea was inspired by her care team to enter the health care profession. After graduating high school in 2016, she now attends Lone Star College and is majoring in nursing. As a nurse, we know that Ja’Kayea will be an inspiration to so many children and families!

It is Candlelighters’ honor to present the 2019 Childhood Cancer Survivor Honoree Award to JA’KAYEA MATHIS
In early 2015, Tatiana Demus found it painful to walk. At first, the family thought she was experiencing growing pains like her older sister Savannah. The pain and limping progressed, so a few weeks later, her parents took her to the pediatrician. Her pediatrician thought the same thing, growing pains, or that she may have injured her leg playing sports. As the pain progressed she went to see an orthopedic specialist who ordered an x-ray and an MRI and referred the family to the MD Anderson Children’s Cancer Hospital, where her mother worked as a nurse on the Thoracic floor. Shortly after, Tatiana was diagnosed with osteosarcoma, a cancer of the bone cells.

The Candlelighters philosophy is: when a child is diagnosed with cancer, the whole family is diagnosed. Every member of the family is affected – parents must divide time between hospital stays, clinic visits, treatments, and home. Siblings of childhood cancer patients can feel ignored, helpless, and alone, as their parents spend days, weeks, and sometimes months in the hospital.

When Tatiana was in the hospital and wanted a fun “makeover” (as all little girls do!), her sister Savannah was there. When Tatiana wanted to have family dinner, and the hospital was the only place they could all be together, her siblings gladly joined her. When Tatiana felt strong enough to get out of the hospital, get out they did! Always at Candlelighters events, the Demus family came to Candlelighters Camp CLIFF, baseball and basketball games, the Rodeo Houston Planet Texas BBQ Cook-off, you name it, they were there, together. And when they wanted to give back, Savannah, Isaiah, and Xavier all organized fundraisers at their schools in honor of Tatiana to support Candlelighters.

Tatiana’s family, her parents, her sister Savannah, and both brothers Isaiah and Xavier, saw the importance of making sure they were together in supporting her through her treatment. To each of them, it was apparent that their focus needed to be on making Tatiana’s days brighter and more comfortable. That became their family’s mission.

Savannah was 10 years-old when her sister was diagnosed with cancer. She supported Tatiana with her encouragement and with laughter – the best medicine. She would sometimes sleep over at the hospital to keep her sister company and to distract her from the mundaneness of the hospital. Now in the 9th grade, Savannah plays piano and basketball, and loves math and science.

Isaiah was just a few months shy of his fifth birthday and fully understood that his sister was sick. He adjusted to the “new normal” of spending a lot of time in the hospital, time at home when his mom or dad couldn’t be there, and he faced it all with a maturity beyond his age. Now in the third grade, he loves music, art, soccer, and playing video games with his brother.

At just two years-old, Xavier’s life changed drastically when Tatiana was diagnosed. Family time was now hospital time. He adapted and was his cute and adorable self throughout her treatment. He may not have understood what was happening, but he knew that he wanted to be with his family. Xavier is now a first-grader who likes drawing, soccer, and playing video games.

Cancer can either tear a family apart or bring a family closer together. Tatiana’s family truly faces childhood cancer together and continues to support Tatiana on her childhood cancer journey.

It is Candlelighters’ honor to present the 2019 Sibling Honoree Award to SAVANNAH, ISAIAH and XAVIER DEMUS
In April of 2005, just two weeks before Carlie Raye’s fourth birthday, she started complaining of a tummy ache. Her parents took her to the pediatrician’s office; he felt her tummy and sent them immediately to have a CT scan and blood work done. Carlie had a large mass wrapped around her kidney. Her parents took her to Texas Children’s Hospital, and there they heard the words that no parent ever wants to hear – “your child has cancer.” They still remember feeling like they were in a fog, not sure what to do and how they were going to endure.

Carlie had surgery to remove the tumor on her right kidney; the pathology report confirmed Stage IV High Risk Neuroblastoma. Neuroblastoma is a type of cancer that effects the small glands of the kidney. Treatment for Carlie included five rounds of high-dose chemotherapy, spot radiation, total body radiation, and two stem cell transplants. Despite having side effects that included fevers, infections, partial hearing loss, stunted growth, and kidney damage, Carlie Raye showed tremendous strength and courage through her journey. During those many days of treatment, Candlelighters was there.

Carlie was considered cancer free before she relapsed in December 2006. After an almost-three-year fight, Carlie Raye lost her battle with childhood cancer and passed away on February 2, 2008.

Carlie loved, and was loved, by her Mom, Dad, brother, sister, friends and numerous family members, including her cousin Ali Williams – one of our Lights of Courage Luncheon chairs this year.

Carlie showed tremendous courage and strength throughout her journey. She never felt sorry for herself and did not want her life to be all about cancer. She went about her days as normal as possible, doing all the things she loved to do. Although Carlie lived a life cut short, it was full of fun, love, and lots of hugs and kisses! Carlie had beautiful sparkling blue eyes, dimples, and a smile that could light up a room. She is fiercely missed to this day and for her family and friends, Carlie Raye will forever be their “Raye of Sunshine!”
Candlelighters Young Professionals Group’s 11th Annual Margarita Taste-Off took place Saturday, March 23rd, at Kirby Ice House.

Local restaurants competed for the best margarita, while attendees sipped, sampled and voted for their favorite concoction. Don Julio graciously sponsored the tequila to ensure consistency and quality among contestants. Silver Eagle Distributors sponsored the beer tent for the non-tequila lovers where they provided Modelo Especial for guests to enjoy, also donated for the event were offerings from 8th Wonder and Oasis Texas Brewing Company. Event also included a Don Julio tasting station, DJ Senega, raffle and Kendra Scott jewelry pull (where 50 boxes sold out in mere minutes!). The highest bid of the day on silent auction was for four Texans tickets in head coach Bill O’Brien’s suite, and the best part is the winner of the tickets is gifting this once-in-a-lifetime experience to a Candlelighters family! Overall, the event raised more than $94,000 for Candlelighters – another record-breaking year!

Special thanks to our Celebrity Guest Judges who helped us celebrate the amazing event! Eric Sandler – CultureMap, Melissa Wilson – FOX 26; The Morning Mix Crew on 96.5 (Lauren Kelly and Geoff Sheen), former Houston Texan Kareem Jackson, Dr. Frank Lin – pediatric oncologist at Texas Children’s Hospital and Morgan Weber – Agricole Hospitality.

How to get involved: Visit www.candle.org. 100% of proceeds benefit Candlelighters Childhood Cancer Family Alliance – an organization providing emotional, educational and practical support for families with children with cancer. Since the event’s inception, it has raised more than $500,000.

Candlelighters began in 1989 with two parent support groups from the Texas Medical Center: one at Texas Children’s Hospital and one at The University of Texas MD Anderson Children’s Cancer Hospital. The Texas Children’s Hospital group sought formal incorporation, and in 1992 Candlelighters was legally formed. In the fall of 1992 they invited the MD Anderson Parent Group to join them and the two organizations merged into one. The Parent Consultant Program was developed to directly meet the needs of families at the treatment centers and to inform them of potential resources. Our programs and services extend beyond the hospital walls with our Family Camp, Adopt-A-Family, Fall Festival, Candlelighters Newsletter and other special events. Over the years, we have learned how critically valuable it is for our Parent Consultants to be able to personally hand parents of children with cancer practical assistance such as a meal pass, parking assistance or gas cards. It is our greatest honor and privilege to bring this type of comfort and hope to childhood cancer families.
